NO KID HUNGRY

Share Our Strength's No Kid Hungry campaign has been working to end childhood hunger in America by ensuring EVERY child gets health food EVERY day. But during the coronavirus pandemic, hungry kids need these critical meals—and your help—more than ever.

COVID-19 CRISIS & RESPONSE

America's kids need us. With school closed in districts nationwide, millions of children are being left without a critical lifeline to nutritious meals.

- Nearly 22 million low-income kids across the country rely on the free and reduced-price meals they receive at school.
- Every day that schools are closed, kids in need miss nearly 34 million school meals.
- As of April 20th, kids in need have missed nearly 874 million meals at school due to closures.

No Kid Hungry is doing everything possible to ensure these children still get access to nutritious food, but we cannot do it alone!

CALL FOR CHARITY STREAMS

We've received an incredible outpouring of support from our community, but we've also received thousands of requests for assistance. We're counting on our livestream community to continue to raise funds to help us feed kids who are struggling today and in the future when our nation is recovering.

STREAMER IMPACT

Your support allows us to continue doing the following:

- Work with federal and local government to support children in need.
- Provide emergency grants to food banks and community groups.
- Divert resources to help the hardest-hit communities.
- Make sure families know how to find meals while schools are closed.
- Never stop our work to ensure every kids gets three meals a day during this time of crisis and all year long!
